

Hey Manager Controlling, we are looking for you! Are you open to a position where you can combine your qualities as Controller, Manager and MT member? Would you like to do that at a socially engaged organisation? Then keep reading!

2024. This was quite the year for you, but fortunately in a positive sense. Developments in sustainability followed each other in rapid succession. Less gas was consumed and dog snacks were produced even more sustainably. Interesting shifts, which have benefited the entire organisation. You are secretly quite proud of that. At the same time, you are fully focused on financial (future) scenarios for the organisation. What costs can you further optimise, how do you improve processes even more? Meanwhile, out of the corner of your eye, you see an e-mail coming in from team Finance. You just spoke to one of the team members and are happy to hear that his project is going very well. There is no stopping, and you don't need to. After reading the e-mail, you further elaborate a number of the scenarios and then get ready for the MT meeting that is coming up.
